

Consumer Price Data Released For April

WASHINGTON (AP) — Led by the first rise in retail food costs in four months, consumer prices increased four-tenths of a per cent in April, the government said today.

The increase was the biggest price rise since January and was twice as large as the March increase of two-tenths of a per cent. However, it still was well within the Ford administration's prediction for an overall 6 per cent increase in prices during all of 1976.

The Labor Department said the price of food rose six-tenths of a per cent during April, the first rise since a six-tenths of a per cent rise in December. Food prices had declined during the first three months of 1976 by a total of 2 per cent.

There were higher prices during April for fresh fruits and vegetables, coffee, pork, poultry and dairy products. The price of beef fell six-tenths of a per cent, but the decline was smaller than in the previous two months.

The department said the Consumer Price Index stood at 168.2 in April, meaning that goods which cost $100 in a base period in 1967 cost $168.20 last month.

During the first three months of the year, consumer prices rose at an annual rate of 2.9 per cent, a low rate that most economists believe could not be maintained for long.

Food prices actually declined by 2 per cent during the January-March period. The Agriculture Department this week had additional good news for consumers, saying the over-all increase for food prices this year might be between 2 and 5 per cent, which would be the smallest annual increase in four years.

Economists, however, are more concerned about the trend in industrial goods, since food prices are considered volatile and not indicative of the overall inflation rate.

Prices for commodities other than food increased during the first three months at an annual rate of nearly 4 per cent.

One indication that the very low inflation rate may be about over was seen in the April wholesale price index, which showed an increase during the month of eight-tenths of 1 per cent, the biggest increase since last October.

Another potential trouble spot in the inflation outlook results from the pace of the economy's recovery from recession.

The Commerce Department reported Thursday that the nation's over-all economic output increased at an annual rate of 8.5 per cent during the first quarter.

The gain in the nation's Gross National Product was up from a preliminary estimate of 7.5 per cent and exceeded all predictions. Some concern now is being expressed by economists that if the economy continues to grow at such rates, it could lead to a big increase in demand for goods of all kinds, which would put new pressures on prices.

Meanwhile, there were these economic developments:

—Shell Oil Co. said it has raised its nationwide gasoline price by one cent a gallon. Shell said the hike was to account for increased costs of crude oil.

—The Ford administration continued its attack on a bill that would set a national goal of cutting the national unemployment rate to 3 per cent in four years.

Alan Greenspan, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and Federal Reserve Board member Charles Partee told a Senate panel the goal was arbitrary, inflationary and could cost the government billions of dollars.

major efforts in those two states — and did mention California — while Church is concentrating on the smaller primary states before June 8 to seek momentum for the California voting.

Meanwhile, the candidates were seeking votes in some of the states that are holding their primaries this Tuesday, in addition to states voting on June 8.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace was in Arkansas, Church and Brown were in Nevada and Oregon, Udall in Kentucky and New Jersey and Carter in Nevada and California. Ronald Reagan was in Nevada and President Ford remained in Washington.

About 18 per cent of all Democratic convention delegates will be selected June 8, making it the biggest primary day in terms of numbers.

Delegates in New Jersey and Ohio will be selected on a winner-take-all basis at the district level, while California's delegation will be selected proportionally.

Carter, admitting Brown will get many of California's delegates, told an Oregon news conference Wednesday, "He will have to fight me for every one." Carter aides said he planned to spend at least $300,000 in the California fight.

Udall said in a New Jersey campaign appearance Thursday that he plans to spend $150,000 to $200,000 of the federal matching funds he is due in that state. He added he would spend as many days seeking the 108 Jersey delegates as he will spend in search of the 152 Ohio delegates.

A Udall spokesman in Washington denied Udall had written off California, but said no California campaigning is now planned.

Church is pinning his hopes on doing well in the next two weeks' primaries, including ones in Oregon and his home state of Idaho, and carrying some momentum into California.

Church press secretary Bill Hall also denied the Idaho senator is bowing out of an active fight in California.

"Of course, Gov. Brown starts with an advantage," he said. "He (Church) is going for broke in California."

"My father and I don't agree on this issue," the 24-year-old Ford said. "But I'm glad he and I could sit down and discuss it like rational human beings." He said his father was definitely against decriminalization of marijuana.

Later at President Ford Committee headquarters in downtown Columbus, he defended his father's stand against busing, saying: "We feel it is important to get back to the real issue of quality education and away from busing. There are better ways to get to the real issue than putting kids on buses for two or three hours a day."

He denied his father was using the busing issue as a timely campaign booster for the West Virginia and Kentucky primaries, saying Atty. Gen. Edward Levi was asked to look into the

Would Cut Inflation From Property Levies

Bill Progress Reported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With one obstacle out of the way, at least temporarily, a joint conference committee resumed deliberations today on a major bill designed to protect Ohio homeowners from tax increases caused by inflation.

The committee voted 3-1 Thursday to make the bill effective with the 1976 tax year, instead of an effective date of 1978 set in the Senate version. Under the House version, a complicated system of rollbacks would have sought, despite legal questions, to make some of its provisions retroactive to 1972.

Chairman George D. Tablack, D-52 Campbell, said the vote at least held out hope that the committee might reach further agreements today. If not, he said Thursday, after daylong bickering on the issue, he would be ready to adjourn the panel and ask that another be appointed. He threatened that move several times Thursday when the committee seemed hopelessly deadlocked. Legislative leaders have targeted the measure, by Rep. John E. Johnson, D-68 Orrville, for priority consideration when the legislature returns June 9 for a three-day clean-up session.

Sen. Donald J. Pease, D-13 Oberlin, went along reluctantly with the motion by Johnson to move the effective date up to the current tax year. But he indicated he did so to get the committee moving, and warned he was reserving the right to vote against the committee's final report.

The committee consists of six members—three from each chamber. A final report needs the votes of two members from each house. Both minority Republican members — one senator and one representative — were absent Thursday.

The bill, which attracted major attention early this year when real estate taxpayers were hit by unexpected increases in their taxes resulting from inflation, would hold the line from year to year on property valuations for tax purposes. Thus, the only way taxes would increase would be by a vote of the people.

Showers Continue In Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Showers and thunderstorms continued late Thursday from the high plains of west Texas and eastern New Mexico into western Nebraska. More thunderstorms extended from South Dakota into southwest Minnesota and northwest Iowa.

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms dotted the southern Rockies and southern Plateau.

Most of the rain ended in the Northeast, except for scattered showers and thundershowers and some drizzle from east-central Ohio through Pennsylvania and New Jersey. There were also a few showers Thursday along the Texas Gulf Coast.

Portions of Pennsylvania and western New York State had locally dense fog overnight. Fair skies were generally restricted to an area from the eastern portion of the central Plains through the mid and lower Mississippi Valley and eastward to the mid and south Atlantic Coast.

Skies were also mostly fair overnight over the Pacific Northwest.

Temperatures around the nation at 3 a.m. EDT ranged from 34 at Plattsburg, N.Y., to 81 at Phoenix, Ariz.

The national forecast for today: showers and thundershowers will be scattered through the Plains, the central Rockies and southern Plateau and along the Gulf Coast. Showers will continue in the north Atlantic Coast states. Elsewhere, skies will be clear or partly cloudy.

Most of the nation will have high temperatures ranging from the 60s in the north to the 80s in the south. The Pease and others maintain the measure will run into court troubles unless its effective date is put off until 1978 to coincide with the end of Ohio's current six-year reappraisal cycle. During each cycle, counties are reappraised in groups, and nearly two dozen are yet to be reappraised in the cycle which started in 1972.

Senate conferees claim that any effective date for the bill that falls within the six-year period would be unconstitutional because it would have the effect of treating different groups of taxpayers in different ways.

They point out that the board of tax appeals already has ordered a freeze on property values until 1978.

However, Tablack and Johnson, among others, claim the board lacked authority under the law to order such a freeze, and predict it will be disallowed once challenged in the courts.

Further complicating the deliberations was a decision Thursday to make another major tax reform bill a part of the Senate bill which is being used as a working vehicle by the committee.

That measure, by Rep. William E. Higin, D-96 New Philadelphia, would reduce tangible property (inventories and equipment) assessment rates on business and industry. They would go from their current 45-50 per cent levels to 35 per cent, the same figure set by the tax appeals board for real property several years ago under an Ohio Supreme Court order.

Carol Fugate Gets Chance For Parole

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Carol Fugate, who at 14 accompanied mass murderer Charles Starkweather on a rampage that shocked the nation, gets a chance for parole next month after spending more than half her life in prison.

Miss Fugate, 32, will be considered for release June 20 by the five-member state Parole Board. Her freedom could come then.

Relatives of some of the victims have fought against Miss Fugate's release, and Parole Board sources say a new identity and residence have been prepared for Miss Fugate in another Midwestern state.

She accompanied Starkweather on a 1958 killing spree that claimed 10 victims. Starkweather, who was executed in 1959, also was implicated in a gas station robbery which left one man dead.

Miss Fugate went to prison in 1959 — she was tried as an adult — and a series of unsuccessful appeals followed. She has never received a disciplinary citation in her years at the York Women's Reformatory, where she has studied to be a geriatrics nurse's aide.

Despite protests from victims' families, Nebraska's Pardon Board — composed of the governor, attorney general and secretary of state — commuted her life sentence in 1973, making her eligible for parole.

The murders started in Miss Fugate's home. Her mother and stepfather were shot, her 2-year-old sister clubbed to death. It was right after Miss Fugate's mother told Starkweather she didn't think he was a good influence on her daughter.

Ohio Political Scene Becomes Warmer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Ford's son Jack was greeted warmly Thursday on his five city, two-campus campaign tour across Ohio in support of his father's bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I'd like to get an idea of what is on your mind, to take impressions back to my father," Ford told students at Bowling Green State University and Ohio State University in Columbus.

Surrounded by a crowd of some 800 students on the Ohio State oval, the shirt-sleeved Ford answered questions about his father's administration and candidly admitted to having smoked marijuana.

Ford, who did not advocate drug use, said the money now used to enforce marijuana laws should be diverted to fighting hard drug use.

possibility of a challenge to Supreme Court rulings last November.

At both college stops, Ford said his father is "within easy striking distance" of opponent Ronald Reagan in California and expects to do well in Ohio's June 8 primary.

The President's son said he does not think political campaigning is something "I'd ever do for myself," adding he does not think he will ever seek political office.

At Bowling Green State University Ford told students his father is "within easy striking distance" of opponent Ronald Reagan in California and expects to do well in Ohio's June 8 primary.

After leaving the capital, Ford flew to Mansfield for the opening of the Richland County headquarters of the President Ford Committee. Ford also attended a reception in Canton to cap the first day's activities of the Ohio Republican Women's Federation state meeting.

The President's son remained overnight in Canton and was to attend the opening of Ford's Canton headquarters today before flying back to Washington.

Meanwhile, Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, in Cincinnati to speak at a Ford fundraiser, told reporters Thursday he will formally support the President's nomination when New York's unpledged convention delegation meets next week to announce its choice in the presidential race.

from 1,074 participants in the second-year Spanish examination. And Miss Johnson, a student at the Circleville Junior High School, placed first out of 1,517 students who took the freshman English examination. With her is teacher Mrs. Carolyn Hamilton.

Two Circleville school students and a team of three from Logan Elm High School scored first in the state on the Ohio Tests of Scholastic Achievement Fifth Annual Individual and Team Awards competition.

The students are Cindy Johnson of the Circleville Junior High School, David Cook of Circleville High School, and the team of David Cain, Jerry Scanlan, and David Bloomfield of the Logan Elm High School.

Miss Johnson tied with Diana Whitaker of Springboro for first place out of 1,518 participants in the English 9 test.

Cook tied with Jon Boley of West Holmes for first place out of 1,074 participants in the second-year Spanish contest.

And the team of Scanlan, Cain, and Bloomfield tied for first with a team of students from Columbia in the Geometry contest.

In addition, Julia Smith, a student at the Circleville Junior High School, finished in a tie for second place out of 1,698 participants in the first-year Algebra contest; Cain of Logan Elm finished in a tie for 11th place out of 1,555 participants in the individual Geometry contest; and Jeff Morton of Circleville Junior High School finished in a tie for 15th place in the first-year Algebra contest.

The English 9 team of Circleville Junior High School students placed second in the state-wide testing and the first-year Algebra team placed third. Members of the English team are

Six-hundred seventy-six Ohio secondary schools were represented by more than 22,000 students who enrolled in the program that tests 16 subjects including English, foreign languages, mathematics, sciences, and social studies.

School trophies and award medals are presented to winning team members in each subject area.

Although the competition has undergone many changes, this spring marks the 48th year the Ohio tests of Scholastic Achievement have been offered to outstanding Ohio high school students.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market retreated today from the previous day's gains, reacting to a sharp rise in the nation's basic money supply.

The 10:30 a.m. Dow Jones industrial average fell 3.14 to 994.13, and held a moderate lead over gainers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Brokers said some profit taking appeared to be sparked by the Federal Reserve as the market was closing on Thursday. Many feared the new rise would touch off a further climb in various interest rates.

Partly balancing that concern, however, was news as the market opened today that Citibank was keeping its prime rate unchanged at 6 3/4 per cent.

Traders appeared not to react either way to news that consumer prices in April rose at a 4.8 per cent annual rate. Engelhard Minerals, the Big Board volume leader, added 3/8 to 35.

Among early victims of profit taking, General Motors declined 3/4 to 70, Sperry Rand fell 3/4 to 48, and Digital Equipment fell 1 1/2 to 165.

Production Of B1 Bomber Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — After voting to delay production of the controversial B1 bomber, the Senate now faces decisions on whether to approve other weapons requested by the Pentagon.

Votes are expected Monday on proposals to deny $322 million for production of 60 additional Minuteman III missiles and to delay building of additional Airborne Warning and Control System aircraft until NATO decides to buy the AWACS for European defense.

Reversing an earlier decision by the House, the Senate Thursday voted 44 to 37 to delay production of the B1 bomber until next Feb. 1, which is 12 days after the next presidential inauguration.

Gunman Surrenders

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP) — A gunman wanted for nearly 30 armed robberies surrendered to authorities after he allegedly seized seven hostages during a $30,000 bank stickup and held FBI agents and police at bay for an hour and a half.

"He was very nice and didn't appear to want to hurt anybody, but you can never tell," said a woman bank teller after the incident Thursday.

The robber, identified by the FBI as Jerry Bray, 26, of Mount Vernon, N.Y., grabbed the six employees and one customer about 11:30 a.m. as police responded to a silent alarm activated at the Barclays Bank branch.

Police said Bray fired a .45-caliber automatic several times during the siege and an FBI agent suffered a superficial leg wound from a ricochet.

Bray freed the hostages unharmed at the urging of FBI agents and by 1 p.m. he was convinced to surrender, police said.

Bray was described by the FBI as a parole violator, wanted by state police for two years. He had been sought for 27 armed robberies in the Bronx and one in Rochester, N.Y., during that period.

In addition, he was wanted for the March 22 holdup of another Barclays branch on North Avenue here.

Vocational Board Re-Employs Staff

At the regular meeting of the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational School Board Thursday night, all the non-certificated personnel were re-employed. The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Karen Frey, adult education secretary.

Those supervisors whose contracts expire this year were re-employed. They were Mrs. Shirley Henley, home economics; Mrs. Christine Ludwig, business and office education; Donald Haines, assistant supervisor in trade and industrial education; Frank Darling, trade and industrial education supervisor.

The budget hearing was set for 8 p.m. July 15.

The low bid of $5,900 was accepted from the Brodhead-Garrett Company, Cleveland, for a dust collection system in the occupational lab. The board also approved the acceptance of the bid of G. M. Baker and Son in the amount of $8,604 for an irrigation system for the outdoor horticulture laboratory.

Approval was given for the purchase of materials for the home economics multi-media center in the amount of $1,979. The instructional materials are available to all home economics teachers in the area. Money for the project is 100 per cent reimbursable from the state.

Maintenance contracts with IBM for the business and office education data processing equipment were approved.

Board president Homer Beath appointed the following committee to work on the house construction project in senior carpentry: Paul Gearhart, chairman; Mrs. Bonnie Hildenbrand and Forrest Brown.

Approval was also given during the meeting for an adult summer course in secretarial upgrading providing sufficient enrollment merits of course. A summer remedial program was also approved contingent upon sufficient enrollment for ninth and tenth grade English and world history.

The classes will be open, tuition free, to all students in the area who need the make-up work. The classes will run June 21-July 19. Students will be expected to provide their own transportation.

Ray Pack, coordinator of guidance at the vocational center, reported that the enrollment for the class entering in September stands at 454. He also reported that there are still some openings in seven programs.

In final action, the board approved the employment of horticulture students in a summer program at the center. Junior students in horticulture are required to have the summer experience.

Hustler Personnel Indicted

CINCINNATI (AP) — Officers of a Columbus based corporation which publishes "The Hustler" magazine and a Cleveland distribution firm were named in obscenity related indictments returned by a Hamilton County grand jury.

Larry C. Flynt, 33, Columbus, publisher and owner of the magazine printed in Dayton and his firm were charged with engaging in organized crime and pandering obscenity.

Also named in the two count indictment involving the magazine were Jimmy Flynt, 28, circulation manager, and Althea Leasure, 22, art director and columnist and Al Van Schaik, a company officer.

Reuben Sturman, 52, owner of the Sovereign News Co., with offices in Cleveland, was named in a two part indictment charging he and his firm with engaging in organized crime and pandering obscenity.

An indictment charged James Edward Pettus, 31, Cincinnati, with compelling prostitution and promoting prostitution.

The Hamilton County prosecutor's office alleged that Sovereign News distributes sexually explicit movies, magazines, tabloids, books and erotic equipment.

Also named in the indictments were Melvin Kamins, Joseph Zernic, Antoine Dostal, Fred Hirsch, Samuel Josepec, Richard Johnson, James Cornett, William Willingham and Thomas McKenzie, all officers or employees of Sovereign News.

On Books And Activities At The Library

Despite crowded travel conditions, many of the early colonists coming to America brought books with them. From this thirst for reading grew the system of free libraries we are privileged to enjoy in America today. Whether you read to stretch your mind or for relaxation, you can find the right book at the Pickaway County District Public Library.

The story of a people with no weapons and no known words for enemy or war is the subject of a fascinating book by John Nance. "The Gentle Tasaday" tells the full story of the Stone Age people discovered living in the Philippine rain forest in 1971. It chronicles not only their way of life, but explores the problems they face after being introduced to the modern world.

The mysterious Bigfoot of the Pacific Northwest provides exciting reading in "The Search For Big Foot" by Peter Byrne. The author is heading up an investigative team to study the giant primate in an effort to discover whether he's monster, myth or man. "The Children Of Ham" by Claude Brown takes you behind the scenes of

Physician Faces Charges Of Murder

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) — A surgeon has been charged with murder in the mysterious "Dr. X" case involving the deaths of five patients in a northern New Jersey hospital a decade ago.

Medical techniques not available 10 years ago reportedly enabled investigators to find traces of curare, a muscle relaxant that can be fatal in large doses, during laboratory tests of tissues from five bodies exhumed earlier this year.

Dr. Mario Jascalevich pleaded innocent to a five-count murder indictment at his arraignment here Wednesday before Superior Court Judge Theodore Trautwein and was later released on $150,000 bail.

Until his name was revealed in court papers, Jascalevich was referred to as "Dr. X" in news reports of the latest investigation into the deaths.

The doctor was arrested early Wednesday as he left his Englewood Cliffs home for his job at Christ Hospital in Jersey City. After the arrest was announced, a hospital official said a board may be convened to consider barring Jascalevich from practicing there.

A county grand jury returned a sealed indictment Tuesday charging him with murdering Carl Rohrbeck, 72, Nancy Savino, 4, Margaret Pearson, 26, Frank Biggs and Emma M. Arzt, 70. They were among 13 patients who died at Riverdel Hospital in Oradell in late 1965 and 1966. They were not Jascalevich's patients.

The indictment did not say how the alleged murders were committed.

High Court Upholds Utility Rate Boosts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The legality of emergency rate hikes implemented by the Ohio Edison Co. last year have been upheld by the Ohio Supreme Court.

In a 6-1 decision Wednesday, the court rejected arguments that the rates were incompatible with rate schedules set by city ordinance.

The court ruled that a utility does not necessarily forfeit its right to emergency rate relief when it elects to charge a new rate schedule established by municipalities.

Ohio Edison asked for the emergency rate relief on Oct. 10, 1974, and the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio approved the emergency rates on Feb. 18, 1975.

But between those two dates, 19 cities passed rate ordinances giving Ohio Edison new electric rate schedules.

Ohio Edison decided to charge the new ordinance rates in the cities, but also moved for higher rates on two fronts.

It filed an appeal with the PUCO, arguing the cities did not grant a high enough rate increase. It also continued its earlier request for emergency rate relief.

The cities, led by Amherst and Canal Fulton, appealed the emergency rate hike, arguing that Ohio Edison had legally accepted the ordinance schedule by charging it and had surrendered its right to emergency rate relief.

In rejecting that argument the court said the utility's appeal of the rate ordinance showed it did not legally "accept" the rate ordinance.

If the utility had accepted the ordinance, the court said, it would have formed a contract with the city, removing the ability to ask for emergency relief.

In his dissenting opinion, Justice Frank D. Celebrezze said the arrangement violates state utility law. He argued that if Ohio Edison wanted emergency relief, it should have stayed with the rate schedule in effect before the rate ordinance was enacted.

Once it began charging the ordinance rate, Celebrezze said, Ohio Edison was barred from seeking emergency relief, but could have begun an appeal of the ordinance rates.

In another decision, the court ruled that the superintendent of the state Highway Patrol can legally transfer his troopers without regard to state civil service laws.

In a unanimous decision, the court said Highway Patrol transfers depend only on the discretion of the superintendent and represent an exception to the general civil service laws allowing appeals of transfers.

Economy Grows At Faster Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economy grew at a faster rate than originally estimated in the first three months of this year as the nation's output of goods and services topped its prerecession peak, the government said today.

The Commerce Department said the Gross National Product, or total output of goods and services, grew at an annual rate of 8.5 per cent during the quarter. Last month, the department estimated the quarter's growth at 7.5 per cent.

Today's revision pushed the Gross National Product, as measured in inflation-adjusted 1972 dollars, to $1,241.2 billion at an annual rate, surpassing the $1,240.9 billion peak in the third quarter of 1973.

A Page Of Opinion

Not Idle Curiosity

Some pretty heavy people are taking a good look at the weather, and it isn't for the sake of idle curiosity. It came as something of a shock to many laymen to find the CIA had taken a big interest in climatic changes, to the extent it is warning that major changes already underway could have devastating effects on the ability of large populations, particularly in Asia, to feed themselves.

Reacting in part to that warning, a couple of U.S. senators have sponsored legislation calling for a national policy on weather modification. If the CIA foreboding has any substance to it, weather modification could suddenly loom big on the world's horizon, along with mass migrations from drought-stricken regions, famines and other disasters.

What brought the weather to the forefront of the world's problems, at least as far as the CIA is concerned, is the study by a University of Wisconsin staffer which says that climatic changes already occurring could bring such calamities as the deaths of 150 million people in India because of recurring drought, major famines in China and the loss of major grain-growing regions in the Soviet Union.

Undoubtedly many other researchers will be turning their attention to this subject in the coming months. The dramatic impact is too great to be ignored. But one report does not prove a disaster is in the making. Meteorologists are not unanimous in their opinions about the climate or the effect man-made pollutants may be having on it, by any means.

It is well to be advised of possibilities in such important matters, in order to maintain a close watch. But it needs to be emphasized that a possibility is far from a certainty.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, May 21st, the 142nd day of 1976. There are 224 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1956, the first hydrogen bomb was exploded. The test by the United States took place at Bikini Atoll in the Pacific.

On this date: In 1542, the Spanish explorer, Hernando de Soto, died while searching for gold and treasure along the Mississippi River.

In 1881, Clara Barton founded the American Red Cross.

In 1927, Charles Lindbergh reached Paris, completing the first solo flight across the Atlantic.

In 1948, President Harry Truman sent Congress a special message proposing statehood for Alaska.

In 1967, more than 300 people died in a department store fire in Brussels, Belgium.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I never had any symptoms of a heart attack. Recently, during an insurance examination, scar tissue was found in my heart. The doctor insisted that I must have had a heart attack.

Mr. G. W., Tex.

Dear Mr. W.: Your experience is not an unusual one. A great many people, especially those with a high tolerance for pain, will completely ignore mild, temporary symptoms, including pain.

A transient episode of chest discomfort and pain may sometimes be considered to be indigestion. Then the episode is completely forgotten and rarely even mentioned to the doctor.

Later, a routine electrocardiogram (EKG) may show small areas of scar tissue in the heart that are evidence of that overlooked tiny heart attack.

The lesson that must be learned is that even transient episodes of chest pain should be noted and called to the attention of a doctor. By recognizing these "small" heart attacks, there is a greater chance of preventing a severe coronary.

Reorientation of patterns of living, weight reduction and elimination of tobacco following a small heart attack may turn out to be of eventual life-saving value.

seen during a routine X-ray of the chest. Occasionally, pain in the neck or the shoulder can be traced to this extra rib near the neck.

In most instances, it is unnecessary to remove the rib. This somewhat rare birth defect is attacked surgically only when painful neuralgic symptoms are directly attributed to it.

In the absence of any symptoms there is no reason you should live in dread that you will eventually be bothered by this condition.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH . . . Do you know anyone who actually expects to fall asleep with a lighted cigarette in his hand? Yet it does happen. And then both the smoker and those around him pay an enormous penalty for such carelessness.

Scheme Of Creation

By JIM BISHOP

Slowly, inexorably, the portrait of the universe is revised. Once, Galileo studied our planets, our stars, our galaxy. He was sure he saw it all. He was followed by men of vision who saw that our galaxy, with its thousands of stars and a Milky Way, was but a small part of a universe of galaxies.

Today the astronomers hunt black holes and quasars in the far reaches of outer space. Over 200 quasars have been identified so far. They are sources of light - a star or cluster of stars - with a pronounced red shift.

One, known only as 3C 273, is five-trillion times as luminous as our sun. It speeds away from our Earth at 24,000 miles per second. At the moment, it is over 293 billion light years outward bound. The reddish blink the astronomer sees in his 70-inch telescope started toward his eye thousands of millions of years ago. 3C 273 might be dead, cold and black. So vast is the universe that its beam of light will be seen here for billions of years. The quasars support the theory that our planet is part of an exploding universe. Everything flies away from everything else as though someone detonated a giant phosphorous bomb in the night sky.

If our present conception of the universe could be compared to something else, it would be a shallow dinner dish. Our galaxy of sun and planets and stars is near the left edge. Thousands and thousands of complete galaxies whirl in space to our right. All of them spin outward and farther away as though space has no end. That thought is worth a pause.

A few years ago, radio signals were detected coming from space where there was no star, no planet. They were steady, identifiable signals. Astronomers of the world could tell each other where, precisely, to locate these signals.

No one knew what they were. Some men noticed that the signal stopped when the moon crossed its path. It began anew when the moon passed. Astronomers were sure that something was out there.

Some began to ask themselves what happens when a star dies. A star is nothing more than luminous gas which emits surface explosions of hydrogen atoms. These send out light and heat.

Can a star die? Yes it can. Someday our sun will die and this earth and all its continents and oceans will congeal into a long night of ice. Little by little, the cautious world of astronomy began to believe that there are gigantic black holes in outer space.

Dead stars. They emit radio flashes like wrecked lighthouses. They depict a tremendous force of gravity. A space ship within a million miles of a dead star would be sucked into the giant hole never to be seen again.

Some stars brighten tremendously before they die. Chinese astronomers, in 1054, identified them as "guest stars." No one asked if a black mass would float in space after death.

The question is being asked. The encyclopedias have articles about "black holes." The best book on the subject, I feel, is "Black Holes, Quasars and the Universe," by Harry L. Shipman. Scientific journals reach timidly toward believing that there are black holes.

A black hole cannot be seen, and some say it does not exist. They forget that death was an important part of the scheme of creation. Sooner or later, everything that God fashions dies.

Stars would not be exempt. Nor would those red quasars fleeing for their lives across the heavens. All of it must be born, produce and die.

The first black hole was discovered in 1965 in the Northern Cross. No one saw it, but there were strong x-ray emissions from a place where there was no star. A satellite was sent out, the Uhuru, and the signals sent back to earth were normal until it got near the Northern Cross.

Suddenly, there were increases and decreases of X-ray energy. The satellite pointed to a new radio source. On earth, a 140-foot radio telescope was aimed at the spot.

There was nothing there. It was named Cygnus X-1. But do not be troubled by things man cannot see. Your body is also a universe. It is host to bacteria more numerous than the 4 billion people in the world . . .

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The official statistics show that savings and loan associations have record amounts of money to lend, but a builder in upstate New York complains he can't make sales because his customers can't get mortgages.

"The 25 largest lenders around here haven't made more than a few mortgages in the past few months," he said. "You ask any of the real estate people around here and they'll tell you the same thing."

This is but one example of an American who feels he hasn't as yet participated in the economic recovery. You can find his like in a wide variety of pursuits, including unskilled workers and stock market investors.

As always, economic conditions vary geographically, and they vary also among occupations, age groups and industries, and even by sex. But some people seem to feel the exceptions are more common this year.

One explanation seems to be that some of the problem areas are very close to the basic needs of people.

While the employment situation is improving, for example, more than seven million Americans can't find jobs, and while consumer prices in general have been rising less slowly, the price of a new house has rocketed ahead.

Ironically, the news about a recovering economy seems to make the contrast even worse because it tends to raise expectations. The discouraged worker re-enters the labor force, only to find he can't find a job. The young couple, tired of renting, decides to buy — and finds the price too high.

The typical new single-family dwelling now is estimated to cost $43,700 — far beyond the ability of a couple with gross income of $13,000. And the initial cost is only part of the story; operating expenses also are rising.

The frustration of the homeseeker nevertheless is hardly that of the job-seeker who reads about the recovery and then finds it doesn't apply to him.

Many thousands of these people are now counted as unemployed for the first time in a year. That is, they were listed before as discouraged workers — those who had given up looking — and thus not counted in the labor force.

Now that their hopes are up but their opportunities aren't, these saddest of the sad have ascended into the ranks of the officially unemployed. At least they are now counted, if they are not included in the recovery.

Meanwhile, many Americans listen to some monetary and fiscal officials proclaiming that the recovery is threatening to get out of hand and therefore needs to be restrained. They can hardly be encouraged.

No proliferation of numbers can convince the discouraged or the nonparticipant. As does everyone else, they believe that recovery begins with them.

Artist Burns Paintings

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Artist Ted DeGrazia says he plans to burn 1,000 more of his paintings, some of which sell for up to $20,000, as a protest against federal tax laws which he says would burden his heirs.

DeGrazia, 67, whose works depicting Indian and Mexican children have made him famous and wealthy, has threatened for years to destroy paintings because of the tax laws.

Last week he carried through with the threat, setting fire to 100 works he valued at $1.5 million. Now, he says, he is preparing to burn 1,000 oils, watercolors, sketches and pastels.

DeGrazia tried to give the paintings to the University of Arizona, but the university turned them down because it had no space to hang them. He said he had rejected offers from other institutions because he wanted the paintings to stay in Arizona.

James Wilson, the grandfather of President Woodrow Wilson, and his sons published the Western Herald and Steubenville Gazette, one of the early influential newspapers in Ohio.

Ford Studies School Busing Turnabout

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, denying that his offensive against court-ordered school busing is connected with upcoming primary elections, is considering ways to use federal money to help school districts avoid extensive busing, administration sources say.

Ford is also considering seeking new legislation as part of "a whole range of approaches" to limit the use of busing as a desegregation tool, according to a White House source.

The source declined to give details on how federal funds could be used to reduce busing ordered by federal courts.

Though officials are reviewing administrative and legislative proposals to curb busing, the first action in the Ford campaign will come on the judicial front if Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi decides to use the Boston school case as a vehicle for seeking new Supreme Court guidelines on busing.

Levi was to explain his views on government intervention in the Boston case at a meeting with Ford this afternoon. Justice Department spokesman Robert Havel said Levi had reached no decision as of late Thursday and that he may not do so until after the session with Ford.

Meeting with a group of visiting reporters from Kentucky on Thursday, Ford suggested the test case could even be made in Louisville, where busing orders led to racial unrest last fall.

Ford's decision to seek alternatives to busing became known as he prepared for a Republican primary campaign in Kentucky where he is considered to be well behind challenger Ronald Reagan in the drive for the state's 37 delegates.

Ferguson Gets List Of License

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes reluctantly has given state Auditor Thomas Ferguson a list of license plates used to protect the identity of state employees, warning him to guard the information.

Ferguson received the list of plates, some of which are used on the cars of undercover agents, as a result of a ruling earlier this month by the state Supreme Court. The court upheld Ferguson's contention that he needed the information to monitor bills charged to the state, such as purchase of gasoline.

Richard Krabach, state administrative services director, turned over the list. "There are many in the lawless element of our society from narcotic pushers to illegal liquor operators, who would pay almost anything to procure this information," Krabach said. "My only admonition is that for the benefit of our enforcement personnel extreme care be exercised in disseminating this information."

A spokesman for Ferguson said that releasing the list to the department would not increase danger to investigators. The spokesman said an agent's name only would be forwarded outside the department if he was to be charged with illegal use of cover plates for private purposes.

In that case, a local prosecutor would be given the information but it would not be made public, the spokesman said.

3 Plead Guilty To Welfare Fraud

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three women pleaded guilty Wednesday to charges of receiving welfare payments while on the state payroll, the Franklin County prosecutor's office said.

A trial on the charges had been scheduled this week until the employees decided to plead guilty to one count each of theft by deception, the prosecutor's office said. Other charges were dropped.

The employees are Mildred Deese, 31, a licensed practical nurse at the Central Ohio Psychiatric Hospital; Charley J. Hughes, 29, a clerk-typist for the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation; and Charlotte M. Gossett, 27, a clerk-typist for the Ohio Youth Commission.

The women were charged with receiving a total of almost $10,000 in welfare checks. They were among 46 state employees indicted by a Franklin County grand jury for taking welfare benefits while holding state jobs.

Art League Plans Heritage Days Display Booth

Plans for Heritage Days and announcement of area high school art awards highlighted the Monday evening meeting of Circleville Art League at the home of Lissa Yaple, Route 2, Vally Rahe presided at the business session attended by 14 members.

Rosalie Vinyard and Louise Morrow reported that the Spring Art Show held May 16 had 92 entries from 23 artists. The show will be on display until June 1 at the courthouse. Through June the winning entries will be on display at the Pickaway County District Public Library and the second, third and honorable place winners will be at the Electric Co. Chairmen for the Fall Art Show will be Judy Laughlin and Jackie Roman.

Betty Margulis and Laura Hutzelman announced the Outstanding Art Awards for seniors from the four area high schools were presented to: Leslie Reid, Circleville; Lonnie Maxson, Teays Valley; Dawn Corbin, Westfall.

The league's booth at Heritage Days, June 5 and 6, will feature an art display with many pictures for sale. Artists will be working painting portraits and other subjects.

Evelyn Bastian will have a display of her work at the Gallery on Main Street during the month of June. A reception and open house will be from 7-9 p.m., May 28.

Refreshments were served by Martha Reid and Laura Hutzelman. Julia McQuain introduced Pauline Savey who gave the program on "Flower Arranging And The Artist." She demonstrated that floral arrangements use exactly the same elements of line, design, color and spatial planning that apply to any fine art work.

The next meeting will be Sept. 20 at the Gallery on Main Street. Ted Baker will present a program on "Portraits."

Pickaway County AVAC Meets At Senior Center

Pickaway County Arthritis Volunteer Action Committee held its monthly meeting recently at the Senior Citizen's Center.

Plans for another informal coffee for arthritis patients were finalized. It will be held May 26 at the Senior Citizen's Center, 1-3 p.m., and will be open to any person in the county with arthritis. Transportation will be provided by AVAC members.

County chairman, Judy Bartels, announced a public forum which will be held in the public library in Grove City on May 27 at 7 p.m. A panel of physicians will discuss arthritis and the help that is now available. The public is invited. Transportation will be arranged for those who want to attend. Committee members completed poster to be placed in local stores to advertise the forum.

Also announced was the availability of a free booklet on osteoarthritis, a form of the disease which afflicts nearly everyone over 60. "Arthritis, The Basic Facts" is another foundation publication which is free for the asking during May, National Arthritis Month.

Members were also reminded of the Central Ohio Chapter Auction for Arthritis to be held in Columbus, June 18. Several local agencies are contributing items for the auction.

AVAC members will be contacting local health care officers to distribute arthritis information during the next few weeks.

The next meeting of AVAC will be June 10, 8 p.m. at the Senior Citizen's Center. People in Pickaway County who can give a few hours of time each month are urged to come to the meetings and help with the Arthritis Foundation programs.

For more information about arthritis or the activities of the local chapter, help with patient problems, or for copies of the literature announced here, write AVAC, Box 486, Circleville, Ohio 43113, or call 474-1666.

Union Guild Makes Donation To Cancer Society

Union Guild met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Marvene Dudleson, Route 3, with Mrs. Pauline Schooley as assisting hostess.

Mrs. Schooley led devotions by reading an article from the Upper Room, a poem and prayer.

Mrs. Magdalene Fee, president, conducted the business session. Roll call was answered by 14 members and a guest, Mrs. Millie Schooley, was introduced. Members voted to make a donation to the Cancer Society.

Following the guild benediction, the program, in charge of Mrs. Martha Krimmel was presented. Readings were given by Mrs. Alice Herron, Mrs. Evelyn Hoover, Mrs. Marjorie Rinehart and Mrs. Mabel Bircher. A contest was won by Mrs. Pauline Schooley. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the afternoon.

The June meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Martha Krimmel, 105 Kimberly Place, with Mrs. Edith Linton as co-hostess.

Dime-A-Dip Dinner Held By La Sertoma

A dime-a-dip carry in dinner was held by members of Pickaway Plains LaSertoma Club in the home of Mrs. Jim Mapes, Zane Trail Road. This was a fund raising project where each person contributed a dime for each serving of food eaten.

After supper Carol Wolf, president, held a business meeting. A thank you was read from the Knights of Columbus for help in their campaign for mental retardation.

Plans for the up-and-coming Installation Banquet were discussed. It will be held along with the Pickaway Plains Sertoma Club. Date and place will be announced later.

The annual president's report was given by Carol Wolf. She covered the entire first year as Pickaway Plains LaSertoma. It was a good year as the club received several awards at the Regional Convention.

The club is entering into a cookbook project. Members are reminded to collect and submit their favorite recipes at the board meeting, May 25, in the home of Mrs. Charles Carle, 94 Evergreen Ave.

The club agreed to make a donation to the Pickaway Township Girls Softball League as a sponsorship project. This will help to purchase much needed equipment.

Veterans Questions Answered

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week the Circleville Herald will publish a series of Questions and Answers of interest to veterans. These questions and answers are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. Any veteran desiring further information concerning his Veterans Administration benefits should contact the Veterans Service Officer at 219 S. Court St.

(Q.) I draw compensation from the Veterans Administration for a 30 per cent disability. Since I will soon be 65 and retired, can I waive compensation and switch to pension?

(A.) Yes, if you apply to VA and it is to your advantage. VA will make determination based on information you provide, and pay you the higher benefit.

(Q.) On service connected death benefits is the amount paid to the widow based on her income?

(A.) No. It is based on the rank the veteran held on active duty.

(Q.) Does a veteran have to serve in the Vietnam Conflict to receive the Vietnam Bonus?

(A.) No. A veteran only had to serve in the military during the dates set forth by the Ohio Bonus Commission.

(Q.) At one time the question was asked about GI Bill covering tuition and fees for flight training. The answer was yes. But, does this mean also for initial instructions in flying to a military man who is absolutely a beginner?

(A.) An eligible veteran or serviceman must first possess a valid private pilot's license and meet the necessary medical requirements in order to use his GI Bill eligibility for flight training. Secondly, the flight training course must be generally accepted as necessary to obtain a recognized vocational objective in the field of aviation or recognized as ancillary to the pursuit of another vocation.

(Q.) Are children of deceased veterans eligible for GI Home loans from the VA?

(A.) No. Although widows of servicemen killed during active duty or widows of veterans who died from service connected disabilities are eligible, children are not.

New Kennedy Personality In Politics

BOSTON (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy III, oldest of the new generation of Kennedy men, is getting his baptism in politics by managing the re-election campaign of his uncle, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

The son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy says he will use the experience to decide whether to run for office himself someday.

Though only 23, Kennedy emphasizes that he alone directs the statewide campaign for the Democratic senator, whom he calls "Uncle Ted."

"He's let me have a pretty free hand in this," Kennedy said in an interview. "I'm running this operation."

Kennedy, tall and rugged, presides over a small paid staff in a barren suite of offices in a downtown Boston office building.

With his boyish face and bushy hair, he looks so much like his father and uncles that people approach him on the street and ask if he's a Kennedy.

Asked if he would like to seek office, Kennedy said, "Certainly it interests me. That's why I'm involved here."

"I'm seeing how the government operates on the federal, state and local levels. It's a learning process now. I don't know how I'll feel about politics in six months."

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — As other cities raise fares to keep mass transit systems going, the Utah Transit Authority says its 15-cent rides, backed by a sales tax, have lured riders back to its buses.

The secret of the UTA success lies in taxpayer approval in late 1974 of a ¼-cent sales tax and an infusion, in less than two years, of about $20 million in federal funds.

The rise in ridership follows the lowering of fares to 15 cents for adults, which UTA officials say is the lowest general bus fare they know about anywhere in the United States.

One transportation planner who has had a hand in the growth says arrival of 203 more buses in the coming weeks will relieve the crowded, standing-room-only conditions of commuter hours.

Solons Seek Solution To Medicaid Cuts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Brushing aside at least temporarily a Rhodes Administration proposal, Democratic legislators are considering borrowing from next year's funds to meet this year's state Medicaid payments.

"This will solve the short-term, so-called crisis that we're in now," House Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, told the Joint Select Committee on Medicaid Wednesday.

Shoemaker wants to take $47 million from a $138.5 million supplemental bill introduced Tuesday to provide a grant, mostly for welfare, in the 1977 fiscal year starting July 1.

The advance would be used to pay health care providers over the remaining six weeks of the current

Windmills To Be Big Power Source

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tens of thousands of giant windmills could supply as much as 18 per cent of the nation's energy needs by 1995, far more than previously estimated, a federally sponsored study says.

Spinning silently in huge circles, wing-like blades as long as football fields could drive generators producing a total electrical output equivalent to 2 billion barrels of oil per year, the report said.

Spokesmen for Lockheed-California Co., prime contractor on the study presented at an energy symposium Wednesday, said past estimates put the contribution of solar energy — of which wind energy is a form — at only 2 to 3 per cent by 1995.

The report, sponsored by the federal Energy Research and Development Administration, envisions 54,000 windmills placed in remote, out-of-sight locations mainly in the Western United States.

Ugo Coty, co-author of the study, said the year-long investigation was more thorough in its search for windy areas than any previous study.

About 87,000 reports from 768 weather stations were surveyed, he said. The team concluded that 20,000 square miles of open land is available and constantly windy enough for wind turbines. An average wind speed of about 16 miles per hour is required if a windmill is to be practical, said Coty.

"During the peak riding time now, a lot of people are sticking with their cars because there is standing room only on the buses," he says.

The new popularity of riding the bus in Salt Lake, Weber and Davis counties — with total population of about 760,000 — wasn't an overnight affair.

Two years ago, the bus system was limping along with an annual ridership of 4.4 million, higher than some previous years, but below the 5 million of 1966. The UTA's budget then received a subsidy from a state liquor tax fund.

By contrast, ridership last year was up to 8 million and estimates this year are for 14 million.

UTA general manager John A. Rankin points to long-range planning, fiscal period. Although a federal judge here has barred the welfare department from cutting off Medicaid payments, the agency says its fund is depleted.

The joint panel approved Shoemaker's resolution 4-1, a move tantamount to majority leadership support when the General Assembly convenes on June 9 for a three-day session. Shoemaker did not say how the 1977 money would be replaced.

"All that does is put the problem off," said Thomas J. Moyer, executive assistant to Gov. James A. Rhodes. Moyer said Rhodes would not support any effort to advance money from funds budgeted for welfare next year.

Rhodes' budget Director William W. Wilkins earlier told the committee $40 million could be slashed from existing state programs that "I guess I would have to consider a lower priority than the current problem." Wilkins' plan for the 1977 fiscal period would attract $40 million in federal funds, but would still leave a deficit of at least that much, he said.

In addition to cutting back on programs, Wilkins said $14.3 million could be taken from an anticipated $20 million surplus at the end of the biennium. He emphasized that the surplus would only materialize if the governor's two per cent across-the-board spending restraint remains in effect.

the sales-tax subsidy and the low fares for saving the transportation line he's headed since 1970.

"The day of a bus system making it on its own is over in this country and probably everywhere in the world," says Rankin, known to his associates as a no-nonsense administrator who frequently hops a bus to check flaws in scheduling and other irritants to customers.

When he took over the UTA, the system covered only half of Salt Lake County and had 63 vehicles. When new buses, purchased with federal grants and local matching funds, are put on the routes this summer, there will be 360 buses.

The routes will cover a distance, north to south, of about 65 miles, and a passenger can cover that distance for 60 cents, although most rides in the system are only 15 cents.

A ride within two of the system's five zones will cost you only 15 cents, if you're an adult. Children, the elderly and the handicapped ride for a dime, but the elderly can ride free during off-peak hours.

A study indicates one of four elderly riders still pays 10 cents at all hours.

Low fares weren't accepted immediately in all three counties. Salt Lake and Weber voters adopted the sales tax beginning in 1975 and in exchange got fares dropped from 25 cents to the new 15 cents, with an additional 10-cent zone charge eliminated for most riders. That proved so popular that Davis County residents went along this year.

With a guaranteed income from the sales tax, the system went to the Urban Mass Transportation Administration and obtained about $20 million on an 80-to-20 matching basis. The bus authority ordered new buses, added routes and extended service to 11 p.m. in some areas and limited service on weekends and holidays.

The UTA's activities have attracted some criticism. State Rep. Samuel S. Taylor, a Salt Lake City Democrat, argues the rides are not low-fare. They are simply prepaid, he says, and he wants all fares dropped.

He also criticizes UTA promotional advertising, saying: "They're paying for ads when the press will give them publicity at no cost."

But, UTA finance director Alma C. Johnson says revenue from advertising placards on the buses nearly equals costs of promotional advertising. The difference last year was only $13,000, he says.

The bus authority's purchase of two other bus lines' franchises also drew fire, with Taylor arguing the UTA might have gotten them free. Board president Glenn B. Goodrich defends the purchases, saying the franchises came more cheaply that way than in fighting through the courts and the Utah Public Service Commission.

The UTA board is studying proposals for more service, including routes to Salt Lake International Airport and nearby ski resorts.

One plan is for buses for the handicapped. They would seat 12 passengers with room for four more in wheelchairs.

Federal aid, particularly for capital investments, is assured through 1980.

This year's operating budget will be just under $9 million. Johnson says $7.3 million will come from the sales tax and the rest, from fares and other revenue such as leasing buses to schools.

Missionary Convention Held At CCCU

There is a Missionary Convention in progress at the First Church of Christ in Christian Union, 436 East Ohio Street, which will continue through Sunday, May 23. Services will be at 7:30 p.m. each evening through Saturday, and at 10:30 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. on Sunday.

Speakers for the Convention include: Rev. Carl Waggoner, Wednesday; Mr. Joe Leatherwood, Thursday; Mr. Calvin Jones, Friday; Rev. Gary Thompson, Saturday; and Rev. David Smith, Sunday.

Mr. Leatherwood and Rev. Thompson were in the West Indies this past summer on a summer-internship program and were involved in preaching revival meetings and various other activities. Mr. Jones has spent a number of years in New Guinea and the West Indies on building teams there. Rev. Smith, presently serving as a missionary evangelist for the Churches of Christ in Christian Union, served a term on the island of Dominica as director of the Bible College there.

The convention will conclude with a special Missionary Day which will be called "Spread the Gospel Sunday." A balloon will be released for each person attending that morning and will have a card attached containing the plan of salvation, the sender's name, and the church's address. The person whose card is returned from the greatest distance, along with the person who returned it, will receive a complementary gift.

Rev. H. David Cyrus pastors the church.

Lancaster.

A time of fellowship will follow the service in the college dining hall.

JAMES LINTON

Student Named To Career Corps Service

James Linton has received appointment to serve with the 1976 Summer Career Corps of World Gospel Missions in Taiwan.

He is the son of Mr. James Linton of Chillicothe, and Mrs. Norma Jean Fosnaugh of Grove City. Linton is a member of the Ashville Church of Christ in Christian Union.

He graduated from Grove City High School in 1974 and is currently a sophomore at Circleville Bible College.

The Summer Career Corps program is designed to give college students and graduates an opportunity to engage in voluntary missionary assignments. The program is similar in concept to the Peace Corps, although of a shorter duration and under the direction of the missionaries. Linton is responsible for his costs of travel and related expenses during the summer assignment.

Since this program was established in 1963, 217 students have served on

Religion Of Carter 'Mystifying'

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of news analysts "are mystified" by Jimmy Carter's religious convictions, he says. "I don't think they doubt my sincerity, but they just don't understand. I don't make a big issue out of it, but neither do I hesitate to say publicly that the most important thing in my life is Jesus Christ."

That outspoken candor about it, a characteristic of the evangelical element in American Christianity, has seemed odd to some more reserved church adherents as well as to secular commentators, but it strikes a familiar chord in broad reaches of U.S. religious life.

"There is a hidden religious power base in American culture which our secular biases prevent many of us from noticing," writes Roman Catholic philosopher Michael Novak of Bayville, N.Y. "Jimmy Carter has found it."

That extensive base is the doctrinally traditional, evangelical sector of the country's churches, and it's a big one, estimated at from 30 million to 40 million of the nation's 132 million church members, about half the 80 million Protestants, a major segment of all mainline denominations, and a dominant part of some of them.

Although the open religious style may seem strange to some Northerners, it's a common quality in the country's heartland churches, in the Far West, and particularly in the South, bastion of the nation's biggest Protestant body, the 12-million Southern Baptists, including Carter, who is regarded as the front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Jim Newton of Memphis, Tenn., editor of World Mission Journal, published by the Southern Baptist Brotherhood Commission of which Carter is a trustee, recently did a taped interview on a campaign plane trip with him about his religious attitudes.

Asked how he handled questions about being a "born-again" Christian, he said, "It's very difficult for anyone who has not had that experience to understand... Many of the newsmen who asked about this have never had this experience. Some of them are downright cynical about it. I think it worries some of them."

"I just explain my own spiritual experience openly and honestly. When I was first asked this question, I had to decide how I was going to respond with the same kind of openness and honesty to this question that I would to any question."

Consequently, he adds, he explains that although he had been a church member since childhood, about 10 years ago, in 1967, he sensed some void in his spiritual life, that he was "missing something important," and began praying about it, discussing it with others, including his sister, evangelist Ruth Carter Stapleton, on a long walk in the woods near his home.

"I had a personal spiritual experience that is difficult to explain to people who have never had such an experience," he went on. "I began to grow. I participated in several pioneer mission efforts (in areas where Southern Baptist work is relatively new) ... I became uniquely aware of the Holy Spirit as an integral part of my life. I learned that I cannot depend on myself for every need and to solve every problem ..."

"I feel my limitations more intensely. I used to deny my limitations and conceal them. Now I am much easier in my relations with other people and with God." But he added that his frankness about his faith has puzzled some secular commentators. "Some have been quizzical, some doubtful, some defensive."

While other candidates, both in this campaign and in the past, have espoused religious faith, the difference often cited is that their expression of it usually is broadly amorphous, in contrast to Carter's "specificity" — a common trait of the evangelical wing of U.S. Christianity.

That religious style, however, often is caricatured in the Northeast by "stereotypes and false images" of literature, such as Sinclair Lewis' Elmer Gantry, observed Rabbi Marc Tanenbaum, interreligious director of the American Jewish Committee.

In that sense, he adds, the evangelical Christian in the presidential race can become the object of the same sort of prejudice that faced the late John F. Kennedy about his Roman Catholicism — a tendency to fear and distrust the unfamiliar and unknown.

However, in many American settings, such as a recent gospel-singing meeting in Indianapolis, where other more formally religious politicians might have felt stiff and aloof, Carter was right at home, clapping his hands, tapping his foot, joining in what for many is the familiar, old evangelical spirit.

Rocky Sees 1st-Ballot Ford Victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, predicting a preponderance of New York's 154 unpledged Republican delegates will back President Ford Monday, said he foresees a first-ballot victory for the president at the Republican National Convention.

"The momentum is gathering," Rockefeller told a $1,000-a-plate GOP fund-raising audience in Cincinnati. In Ohio to beef up Ford's campaign chest and woo the state's 94 uncommitted delegates, Rockefeller received assurance from Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes that the president would win the state's June 8 primary by 800,000 to 900,000 votes.

The dinner raised $103,000. Rockefeller said Ford's campaign was buoyed by primary victories in Michigan and Maryland this week, but predicted the race with former California governor Ronald Reagan "will go down to the wire."

"I will vote for him (Ford) Monday."

This is the time to act," said the former New York governor. "He has brought our country through a difficult period. This country is rolling again."

Rockefeller said he expects Pennsylvania's delegates to come out in favor of Ford Saturday.

Intelligence Panel Same Old Faces

WASHINGTON (AP) — A majority of the Senate's new intelligence committee will be members of existing panels whose failure to curb spy agency abuses provided a principal argument for creation of the new committee.

Under terms of a resolution establishing the new panel, at least eight of its 15 members must come from the four Senate panels that traditionally have monitored the CIA, FBI and other spy agencies. The resolution won overwhelming Senate approval Wednesday.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield will pick eight Democrats to serve on the panel and minority leader Hugh Scott will tap seven Republicans.

The resolution originally called for a 17-member panel but the number was cut to 15 under an amendment by Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev.

Keeping the number at 17 "would not give due representation to the senators who make up the standing committees on Appropriations, Armed Services, Foreign Relations and the Judiciary," which currently oversee the intelligence agencies, Cannon said.

Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, RConn., contended reducing the number would put the eight members of existing panels "in the driver's seat" and would represent "a vote of confidence" in their past performance.

"I do not see how the track record is deserving of any vote of confidence by this body in the existing committees," Weicker said. "They have been in the driver's seat and the track record is an unmitigated disaster."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the current intelligence committee now winding up a 15-month probe of the spy agencies, said the new panel would become the focal point for action on many of the nearly 200 recommendations made by his committee's final report.

One of the first tasks facing the new panel will be to decide whether to reopen the investigation into the murder of President John F. Kennedy. The old committee voted recently to turn over to the new panel what Sen. Richard Schweiker, R-Pa., called "some very hot leads" that might answer why Lee Harvey Oswald killed Kennedy.

The resolution gives the new committee exclusive budgetary and legislative authority over the CIA and shared responsibility with other panels over the National Security Agency, Defense Intelligence Agency, FBI and State Department.

Reagan Almost Missed State Vote

CINCINNATI (AP) — His appearance here was brief, and he never actually crossed the river into Ohio from the Greater Cincinnati Airport in nearby Kentucky.

But the appearance of Ronald Reagan, former California governor and now Republican presidential hopeful, at an airport rally last week marked his first personal campaign appearance in the Ohio presidential primary, an election which he almost missed completely.

Reagan did not decide to enter the Ohio contest until four days before the filing deadline. A frantic effort to gather supporting signatures on nominating petitions got him on the ballot statewide and in 15 of Ohio's 23 congressional districts.

Then, Reagan was an underdog opponent of an incumbent president. But, since then his campaign has blossomed, and he has defeated President Ford in a number of important primary states.

Reagan, 65, a movie star through much of his life, turned increasingly to politics in the 1960s and was a strong backer of the presidential bid of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in 1964. He was governor of California from 1967 through 1974.

During his years as governor, he followed what he calls a "cut, squeeze and trim" policy in fiscal matters, and Reagan says he would follow the same policy as president.

"The country can't pretend it's having an economic recovery when it's based on deficit spending," Reagan said last month. "We're going into debt faster than in wartime."

Reagan says inflation is caused by deficit spending, "government-engineered expansion and preemption of the nation's money," and says the answer is a balanced budget. He says if the emphasis is on fighting recession with federal spending, the nation will be "right back into the inflationary spiral and eventual destruction of our system."

He acknowledged that "economic dislocation" would follow federal budget cuts but said it would be necessary to keep inflation from recurring.

"I know unemployment, of course, is politically unpopular," he said. "Certainly it's unpopular with the people who are unemployed. And you want to resolve that situation."

"But, if we are really to have a sound economy, you want to do it in such a way that you don't have to deal with inflation in another 18 months," Reagan said.

On other domestic issues, Reagan has proposed transferring responsibility for federal programs to the state and local governments.

"I still think that there are a half-dozen areas where the federal government is incompetent to run things, and these should be administered at the state and local levels," Reagan said in April. "It all would be phased in over time."

He said those areas would include welfare, food stamps, housing, Medicaid, community development and education.

In energy development, Reagan says the United States' policy should be one "of trusting the marketplace." He says relaxing government controls on natural gas, nuclear plants, oil shale and offshore drilling would enable the United States "to surpass the Middle East as the world's chief exporter of energy."

He opposes forced busing for racial balance. "If a constitutional amendment is the only way to eliminate it, yes, I'm for a constitutional amendment," he said last month in Texas.

Reagan also says he favors a constitutional ban on abortion except in extreme cases; opposes restrictions on gun ownership; opposes the Equal Rights Amendment, a switch from his original endorsement in 1972; opposes national health insurance; supports right-to-work laws and favors abolition of earnings limits on social security recipients.

In foreign policy, Reagan has criticized Ford for negotiating on return of the Panama Canal to Panamanian control, saying the United States paid for the canal's construction and should keep it.

Reagan says foreign adversaries should not get what they want—"recognition, trade, technical help—without making modifications in their domestic and foreign policies."

He calls Communism "a form of insanity (that) is contrary to human nature.... Detente has been a one-way street that the Soviets have used to continue moving toward the Marxist goal of a socialist, one-world state... The Soviets would have greater respect for us if they knew we weren't fooled. We must insist that we aren't going to be second to anyone," Reagan said.

OU-C Plans Folklore Plays

The students and faculty at Ohio University-Chillicothe will present two one-act plays based on a folklore theme on May 27 and 28 at 8 p.m. in the Stevenson Center.

The two plays are "Devil Take A Whittler" and "The Fisherman."

"Devil Take A Whittler" takes place in Arkansas where we are told of Lem Skaggs and the ways the Devil "interferes" with his wedding plans.

"The Fisherman" takes place on a cloud in heaven where a new arrival attempts to fool "Old Pete," with the aid of the "fisherman," to have her condemned boyfriend brought into heaven.

The cast members are students from the university. They are under the direction of Jack Hollinger from Athens. They would like to have you join them for an exciting and memorable evening of theater.

For further information concerning the show, please contact the Information Desk at Ohio University-Chillicothe at 775-9500.

Rotary Club Guest Is Exchange Student

ROTARY SPEAKER — Miss Ruth Baverton, an exchange student from England, was the Rotary Club's guest speaker Thursday. She was introduced to the Rotarians by Dave McDonald.

Dave McDonald introduced Thursday's guest speaker to the Rotary Club, Ruth Baverton. Miss Baverton is an exchange student from Birmingham, England. She is one of five children and has lived in many different countries since her father is a minister in the service. He is presently serving the Church of England.

The English student has been in the United States for the past seven months and is presently residing with the Ed L. Roush family in Westerville. She told the Rotarians of the educational system in England and compared it to the system in the United States.

In England, a student must compete in examinations in order to progress to college. College is offered to those who qualify free of cost. Miss Baverton will start at Nottingham College next fall where she plans to major in education.

She remarked that many young adults are leaving England for more lucrative jobs elsewhere.

Surrounding her home are many large castles, mansions and beautiful churches. She told the Rotary members that she was amazed at the large crowds that follow the athletic events in the schools here as compared to her homeland.

In a question answer session which followed her lecture, she told of the strong hold communism has on the labor unions and the government in England. High taxes there are forcing the moneyed people out of the country. Miss Baverton also told Rotarians that of all the countries in which she has lived, she thinks the United States has the brightest future.

Pick-Your-Own Fruit Booming

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Consumers will have more opportunity to pick their fruits and vegetables on the farm this year, the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation says.

A trend is increasing among farmers, especially strawberry growers, to permit customers to pick their own produce—and save money in the process, said Reed Varian of the farm markets division.

"Pick-your-own allows the customer the best chance to get a pail full of good berries at a price 15 to 20 per cent lower than retail," said Varian. "And it saves the farmer the cost of harvesting and transporting the berries, thus increasing the profit at his end."

He said the state's strawberry crop should be ripe at the end of May or in early June. Apples, cherries, tomatoes and other vegetables also can be picked at some farm markets.

Bike Rider, Trucker Hurt In Accidents

A truck driver was injured by flying glass from a mirror and a bicycle rider was hurt in a collision with a car in separate accidents investigated by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies Thursday.

Vaughn Grubb, 60, 2005 Chippewa Dr., suffered small lacerations to his face when his truck and another truck on Route 56 were involved in a sideswipe accident 11:50 a.m., about a mile northwest of the Zane Trail Road. Driver of the other truck was Robert C. McNichols, Laurelville.

Deputy Sheriff J. Phillip Brown said McNichols was driving northwest and Grubb, in a truck owned by the Circleville Oil Co., was driving southeast, when the outside mirrors on their vehicles came together.

Twelve-year-old Brent E. Thomas, 9548 Zane Trail Road, suffered minor injuries when his bicycle collided with a car 4:30 p.m. Thursday on the Zane Trail Road, three-tenths of a mile south of the Tarlton Road.

Young Thomas was followed on the Zane Trail Road by a car driven by Jodi E. DeLong, 16, 30650 Tarlton-Adelphi Road. According to Deputy Larry Kellenberger, Miss DeLong pulled to the left to pass Thomas when the youth lost control of his bike and rode left of the center line.

Miss DeLong applied her brakes, but could not keep from hitting the youth. Thomas suffered abrasions to his left knee and right side.

Miss DeLong, and passenger Susan DeLong, 14, and Lisa DeLong, 18, were not hurt.

Sheriff Serves On Select Panel

Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff served on a select panel of enforcement agency executives Thursday night at the Ohio Peace Officers Training Academy, London.

The panel answered questions from a select group of 11 officers who attended a five-day course on Executive Development. The course is directed at the top executives of public law enforcement agencies and is designed to further executive efficiency and effectiveness.

Administrative and managerial problems and solutions were discussed.

The panel discussion was "very interesting and meaningful," according to Sheriff Radcliff, who was honored to serve.

Ohio panel members were Earl Burden, chief of the Columbus Police Department; Col. Frank Blackstone, superintendent of the Ohio State Highway Patrol; and Thomas Mitchell, special agent in charge of the Columbus office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Governor Signs Various Measures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Olympic athletes and coaches, who are employed by the State of Ohio, will get full paid leave to take part in the games under a bill signed into law by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The legislation, sponsored by Sen. Ben M. Gaeth, R-1 Defiance, will assure that athletes and coaches get full pay at their regular state salary, while traveling to and from the Olympic site, and during training and competition.

The law, signed Thursday, takes effect Aug. 19 along with another bill clarifying the authority of local boards of education to purchase accident insurance for student athletes. The insurance bill was sponsored by Sen. Donald L. Woodland, D-16 Columbus.

The Ohio State Racing Commission will get an extra $186,000 to cope with expenses created by the longer racing season under a bill that takes effect immediately.

Recent legislation has authorized an additional 276 days of racing annually. The appropriation bill, carried by Rep. Terry Tranter, D-24 Cincinnati, grants $122,000 to the state Controlling Board to replace emergency funds already released to the racing commission.

Rhodes also signed legislation specifying that all water beneath the surface of Ohio, regardless of depth, is to be considered "waters of the state," subject to pollution controls.

Senate Minority Leader Michael L. Maloney's (R-7 Cincinnati) bill was in response to a 1975 Supreme Court decision upholding a Sandusky County Common Pleas Court ruling that underground waters in the Mt. Simon Formation were not under state jurisdiction.

Mt. Simon, which lies 2,800 feet beneath the surface of Sandusky County, is a layer of bedrock into which wastes are injected from seven licensed injection wells.

The new law, effective immediately, returns Mt. Simon to state jurisdiction and increases the penalties for pollution violation for disposing of sewage or industrial wastes.

Also effective immediately, Rhodes signed legislation authored by Sen. Donald J. Pease, D-13 Oberlin, increasing loan guarantee premiums in the Ohio Student Loan Program. It raised from 1/2 of 1 per cent to 1 per cent special loan insurance premiums paid by borrowers.

The governor also signed with an Aug. 19 effective date:

—A bill sponsored by Sen. Robert E. O'Shaughnessy, D-15 Columbus, increasing the opportunities for blind persons to operate vending facilities, such as snack bars, cafeterias and vending machines.

—Legislation sponsored by Rep. Frederick H. Deering, D-84

Monroeville, authorizing the state bureau of children's services to extend free treatment for cystic fibrosis to persons over 21.

—A measure offered by Sen. Oakley C. Collins, R-17 Ironton, permitting counties to sell, lease or transfer unneeded property to senior citizens groups.

—A bill sponsored by Sen. Gene Slagle, D-26 Galion, defining railroad policemen as "peace officers," eligible for the same training as other law enforcement officials.

Car Part Taken

Harry C. Amman, Jr., Route 1, Lockbourne, told Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies that thieves damaged his car while taking part of a rear deck spoiler.

The car was parked at the intersection of Route 23 and Route 762 from 12 a.m. to 5:30 a.m. Thursday.

The thieves took only the top part of the spoiler, valued at $60, and committed $30 damage to the vehicle.

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Tomorrow is Saturday — But not just any Saturday — It's the day of the Pickaway County Baseball Tournament at Logan Elm.

In our book, this is one of the sport highlights of the year. And we enjoy spending the day watching a great bunch of youngsters play ball while we have a chance to visit with some of the nicest people in the world — The folks who live in Pickaway County.

Things will get underway at 10 a.m. with Teays Valley and Logan Elm going at it. At 1 p.m., Westfall and Circleville will take the field and at 4 p.m. the winners of the first two games will meet for the county championship.

This year we have four good ball clubs in the county so the action should please the hearts of one and all.

But, it is just a little more than a chance to watch some top notch baseball — It's a chance to meet old friends and perhaps make some new ones.

There will be refreshments available all day at the park. But, a lot of families pack up a basket of goodies, and if you just happen to stroll through the parking lot at the right times, you might run across some mouth watering chicken or one of the best beef sandwiches you have ever put your teeth into — It has happened to us and once you've tried it — You'll be back for more.

This year, Logan Elm coach Kathi Thompson and her girl basketball prospects will be washing cars, inside and out, for a nominal fee. The car wash will be held behind the McDowell Building gym so you just might like to get the old buggy sparkling while you enjoy the ball game.

The weatherman has promised a nice day — You will see one of the finest baseball fields in the Central District — Built and immaculately groomed through the efforts of Braves coach Vic Pontius — You'll probably have a chance to chit-chat with people you haven't seen since you put up the storm windows last fall. — And if this isn't enough — It is free and that price can't be beat.

It takes a lot of hard work to put on an affair like this and it certainly deserves to be supported.

Just remember — A good sport roots for his team — A poor sport roots against the other team — There is a big difference.

We'll be there all day Saturday and sure hope to see most of you.

Our "fearless" forecast — Circleville will whip Wehrle in the AA District baseball finals.

Until next time, be a good sport — Have a nice day.

Teays Valley Joins South Central League

Teays Valley High School was unanimously accepted into the South Central Ohio League Thursday night by a vote of the member high school principals.

A class AA school Teays Valley is currently a member of the Metropolitan League which will become defunct after the 1976-77 school year.

Beginning in the fall of 1977, Teays Valley will compete in the South Central Ohio League in all sports. Viking athletes compete in Cross country, golf, football, basketball, wrestling, baseball, track, girls volleyball, girls track.

Teays Valley High School opened its doors in the fall of 1962, a consolidation of Ashville, Walnut and Scioto Twp. schools.

During the first year of athletic competition the Vikings were in the Darby Valley League, winning the league's basketball crown that year.

The next year Teays Valley teams went independent and that year fielded an undefeated basketball team. In the fall of 1964, the South Suburban League, the forerunner of the present Metropolitan League, was formed.

Charter members of that league were Teays Valley, Pleasant View, Franklin Heights and Hamilton Twp. Later, Whitehall and Reynoldsburg were brought into the league and the name was changed to Metropolitan League.

Expansion of the number of teams in the league continued with the addition of West Jefferson, Dublin, Grandview, Olentangy and Marysville.

Pleasant View dropped from the league when its students began going to Westland and Whitehall and Reynoldsburg dropped out to join the Ohio Capital conference.

This year more teams dropped out to form another new league. Teays Valley elected to seek membership in the older, more stable South Central rather than a new athletic circuit.

One of the oldest high school sports circuits in the state, the South Central League was organized in 1923. Charter members were Wilmington, Circleville, Chillicothe, Hillsboro, Washington C.H. and Greenfield. All but Chillicothe are still members.

This is the last year of competition in the league for Unioto High School.

When Teays Valley enters league competition in the fall of 1977, the teams will be: Teays Valley, Circleville, Washington C.H., Miami Trace, Wilmington, Greenfield, Hillsboro, Madison Plains.

There are 933 students in high school at Teays Valley.

In the Metro, the Viking football team captured a share of the football crown in 1970, the basketball teams were co-champs in 1970 and 1971, won the title outright in 1974 and 1975, the girls basketball team shared the crown in 1975 and 1976 and the girls track team won the championship in 1974.

Vikings Rap West Jeff

Teays Valley exploded for seven runs in the first inning and went on to defeat West Jefferson, 9-2, in a Metropolitan League clash Thursday on the Vikings' diamond.

West Jeff opened the scoring with two runs in the top of the first but were blanked the rest of the way.

The Vikings capped their scoring with single runs in the bottom of the third and fourth.

Eric Graves went all the way for Teays Valley. He scattered five hits, six walks and fanned seven.

Alan Pyle and Jim Haskins shared the mound for West Jeff. They allowed a total of nine hits, five walks and struckout seven.

Greg Prince rapped a double for the Vikings, Ranie Wonnhas slammed two singles, Rusty Rathburn blasted a triple, Jim Baxter belted a double and single while Lance Roese, Roger Bickers and Jay Van Pelt each had a single.

Teays Valley is now 11-17, 7-6 in the Metro, and will host Fairfield Union in a twinbill 5:30 p.m. today.

Winnipeg Winner Over Houston Aeros

HOUSTON (AP) — Winnipeg emerged from an 18-day hibernation Thursday night to beat Houston in the first game of their World Hockey Association championship series but the Jets' Anders Hedberg say the game could have gone either way.

"They could have scored the winning goal just as easy as we could," said Hedberg, who scored two goals in the Jets' pulsating 4-3 victory over the defending WHA World Cup champions.

Circleville Athletes Win SCOL Honors

The South Central Ohio League honored its girls track and softball teams and boys baseball and track All-League teams at a sports banquet at Unioto High School Thursday night.

Seniors Darla Hughes and Linda Holveck of Circleville were picked on the girls softball squad while Natalie Martin and Lisa Leahy were named to the girls track team. Natalie was league champion in the high jump, 440 and 880 and Lisa was the mile champion.

Sue Radcliff, Michele Nolan, Wanda Boyd and Cindy Dayhoff of Circleville all received honorable mention on the girls softball team.

Seniors Biff Bumgarner and Brent Mancini were selected to the league baseball team with Biff being named honorary captain. Biff had a 3-1 league pitching mark with a 1.50 earned run average while Brent was named to a utility position. He compiled a .350 hitting mark. Jerry Strawser and Brad Allison both received honorable mention.

Dave Phillips was league champion in the 120 HH and 180 LH. Warren Yamarick took the crown in the 100 and 220 dashes, Frank Merrill was the 880 winner and Jim Cordle captured the pole vault for Circleville.

Coach Jim Lint and his Circleville Tigers won their seventh consecutive SCOL track title while coach Tom Cole and his Red and Black baseball team took league honors.

Coach Karen Rafelds Tiger girls softball team placed second while coach Joy O'Briens girls were fifth in the league.

Greenfield won the girls track crown while Wilmington took the girls softball title.

Braves Reserves Nip Circleville In Thriller, 9-8

Logan Elm jumped out to an 8-0 lead and then held off a bunch of battling Tigers to down Circleville 9-8 in a reserve game Thursday on the Braves diamond.

The Braves scored four in the bottom of the first, four in the second and added what proved to be the winning marker in the bottom of the fifth.

Circleville fought back with three runs in the top of the third, four more in the fourth and capped the scoring with a lone tally in the sixth.

Lynn Strehle went all the way for Logan Elm, giving up eight hits, eight walks and fanned eight.

Alan Ranck and Scott Sanders shared mound duties for the Tigers. They allowed a total of nine hits, six walks and struck out three.

Strehle aided his own cause with a three-run homer in the second, Todd Young slammed a four-bagger, Tom Congrove rapped a double and two singles, Tracy Hartranf rapped a pair of singles while Jeff Davis, and Mark Vanover each slammed a single.

Ranck belted a home run and two singles for Circleville, Eric Berger cracked a double, Scott Sanders ripped two singles while Jeff Meena, and Chuck Wellman each had a single.

Logan Elm finished the season with a 10-2 mark and Circleville ended with a 9-8 mark.

Stimpert To Visit Chile

By KELLY STEELE

Mark Stimpert, sponsored by the American Field Service International exchange student program, will be headed to the coastal town of Antofagasta, Chile, this summer.

Mark is presently finishing his junior year and is enrolled in college preparatory courses. He will take senior classes during June, July, and August at the Liceo de Hombres no. 2. Antofagasta is a town of 200,000 in the arid northern part of Chile. During Mark's stay it will be "winter" in the area with the average temperature of 60 degrees.

Mark will be living with the Rene' Guzman Reyes family. Sr. Reyes is a flight dispatcher with the Chilean Air Force, while his wife, Juana, is a housewife and mother to their only son, Alex, 16.

Spending a lot of time on the beach, taking pictures of the family and countryside, and speaking Spanish is what Mark is looking forward to. However he is slightly doubtful about writing a required composition about Chile's educational system.

Mark commented on his trip saying, "I'm very glad that I get to go to Chile. Now I know that three years of Spanish wasn't wasted."

Circleville's other exchange student is senior, Lisa Leahy. She will spend the 1976-77 school year abroad with AFS, but has not yet been notified of her host country.

Guidance Guidelines

Circleville High School students who participated in the Ohio Tests of Scholastic Achievement received notification of their standings in the Ohio State University District and state competition. Recognition is based on how they placed in relation to other Division I schools which are those which have the largest enrollment as well as Division II and III schools which are smaller. Results are based on Division I schools unless noted otherwise.

In first-year biology, Gordon Sigman received honorable mention in the District; Richard Boulden placed 17th in the district; and Jeff Haist placed 9th in the district and received honorable mention in the state. In chemistry Brent Smith placed 15th in the district.

Martine Widmar received honorable mention in the district in Algebra II. Randy Wolfe and Kurt Hoffman received honorable mention in the district in geometry. Tim Milstead placed 17th in the district in American History, and Matthew Sauer placed 12th in the district in that subject. Susan North and Ann Titus tied for 16th place in the district in English II.

In French I, Sally Wilson placed 17th in the district.

In French II Diane Horst placed 9th in the district, and Kathy Fisher placed fourth in the district, received honorable mention in the state, and placed sixth in the district among all students. Gloria Alvarez placed second in the district, 19th in the state, and fourth in the district among all students in French II.

In Spanish II Joe Leahy placed 10th in the district and received honorable mention in the state. Dave Cook placed first in the district and state, both in competition with other Division I schools as well as all other students competition in Spanish II. Dave will receive a trophy from the State Department of Education for his score, and the other students will receive certificates appropriate in their standings.

and Robin Rager, cheerleaders from Capital University; Frank Lasduck and Phil Moore, cheerleaders from Ohio State University.

All the girls who tried out were judged on their performance with a required cheer, four kinds of jumps, an original cheer they made up, themselves, a few gymnastic moves, and a required group cheer, added to their personal appearance, diction and volume.

Those trying out for cheerleader were to choose four teachers whom they came into contact with either in class or in an activity or club. The teachers had to judge the girls by their associations with them, not as cheerleaders. The different items they judged them on were personality, appearance, attitude, conduct, character, dependability, and poise.

"The girls really have to be dedicated because they have to spend a lot of their time practicing and cheering. I feel this coming year will be a good one," commented Mrs. Doris Gillespie, cheerleader advisor. "No captain has been chosen yet," she added.

Graduates Donate To YMCA Fund

By LESLIE RIED

The class of '76 will be donating money to the YMCA building fund as their Senior Class gift.

The class had originally voted to present the school with a 3 by 8 foot embossed metal sign. The sign was to have the words "Welcome to the Home of the Tigers" painted across it in red and black and a huge tiger on the right side.

The sign was to be hung in the main entrance hall to the school. This project was not approved by the school, so the class re-voted on gift suggestions.

Two alternatives were given for the "Welcome" sign project: a metal sign to hang in the gym or a sign of felt for the main hall. Another suggestion of a donation to the YMCA was also added to the ballot for gift suggestions. Seniors voted in homerooms and the latter suggestion won.

After all class expenses for graduation have been paid, the money that is remaining will be given to the YMCA.

Grad Night Set At King's Island

By LESLIE RIED

Seniors from schools around the state of Ohio will be attending grad night at King's Island Amusement Park tonight.

CHS students totaling 175, purchased tickets for this event. All the rides, and two concerts are included in the fee. Performing will be "Brownsville Station" and "Eric Carmen."

Graduates attending should be at King's Island by 9 p.m. and must stay until 4 a.m.

Bandsmen Receive Recognition

By JODY LINN

The CHS Tiger Band had its annual awards assembly last Monday night in the high school cafeteria. There was a banquet preceding the assembly at 6:30 p.m.

The presentation of the awards included the John Phillip Sousa Award, a national award given in recognition for outstanding achievement and interest in instrumental music and singular merit in loyalty and cooperation. This year the award was presented to Raymond Nance.

Trophies were presented to John Neff, field commander; Diane See, head majorette; Susan Simson, Tigerette captain; Gail Morrison, assistant Tigerette captain; and Debbie Allen, colorguard captain.

To the seniors, plaques were presented. The seniors receiving awards were Debbie Allen, Bill Ancira, Helen Baughman (Roth), Peggy Boyd, Robert Brown, Ted Brown, Susan Crist, Donna Dowden, Molly Hamrick, Jim Heacock, Suzanne Herel, Cynthia Huffer, Jody Linn, Greg Lundberg, Donna Milburn, Gail Morrison, Raymond Nance, John Neff, Valerie Parker, Cheryl Roan, Susan Simson, Tammy Welliver, Cathy Wellman, and Dave Whitehead.

The juniors received medals, and the sophomores received letters.

Firestone Tires

Hit Be Recall

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. recalled about 15,900 tires today, saying some lack sufficient vulcanization and that sidewalls of others could crack.

Firestone said its recall involved whitewall Deluxe Champion Sup-R-Belt tires used primarily on vans and pickup trucks, about 13,000 in size H78-15 with serial numbers VJXCIJ 086, 096, 106, 116 or 126, and about 500 in size 178-15, VHV3CIU 086, 096, 106, 116 or 126.

Also involved were about 2,400 in size H78-14 whitewalls, VEMBDDA 016, 026, 036, 046, 056, 076, 086, or 096.

Baseball Team Has Six Senior Members

By PATTY FORD

This year's Varsity Baseball Team consists of 12 players, six of whom are seniors. The seniors are Brent Mancini, captain; Tim Hartinger, Biff Bumgarner, Keith Sanders, Jerry Strawser and Doug McGlone. "Their leadership has led to a much improved attitude on the entire squad," commented Coach Tom Cole.

Senior Tim Hartinger has played baseball for three years at CHS. He has also been active in football, where he served as captain. "I like it because it keeps me active and it also helps get me in shape for football," commented the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hartinger. Tim will be attending the College of Wooster next fall and will be active in sports.

This year's third baseman and pitcher is Biff Bumgarner. Biff has played baseball for three years. He also played football this year, serving as captain, and plans on furthering his career at Bowling Green University next fall. The "Juice" resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bumgarner. "I've enjoyed playing baseball ever since little league, and it helps to keep me in shape throughout the year," replied Biff.

This year's captain is senior, Brent Mancini. He has played baseball for three years, and this season he pitches and plays center field. Brent is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mancini. He also competed in football and basketball this year. The Tiger captain plans to go to the College of Wooster next fall and will play football and baseball there. "I've played baseball for a long time and have really enjoyed it," commented Brent.

Another three-year veteran is Keith Sanders. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Sanders and guards the position of left field. Keith has also been active in basketball during his career at CHS. He will be going to Miami University in September on an Army ROTC Scholarship. "I have always liked and played baseball since I was three years old," said the senior squad member.

"Baseball has always been my favorite sport, so that's why I play, and also because I enjoy the close competition and good team spirit," stated senior Jerry Strawser. Jerry has played baseball for three years at CHS and this year he has played the position of second base. He has also been active in wrestling and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Strawser. He will be attending Ohio State University in September.

Senior pitcher and outfielder is three-year veteran, Doug McGlone. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGlone and also played basketball while at CHS. Planning to work upon graduation, Doug stated, "I've played baseball since I was seven years old and I have always enjoyed it."

1977 Annual To Be Better

By SUSAN STEVENSON

"Next year's annual could be really different, like no other yearbook," according to 1977 yearbook editor Kelly Steele. The annual staff is planning many new things for next year's yearbook.

The staff consists of Miss Meg Bower, advisor, and Mrs. Paula Woodward, assistant advisor. Kathy Fisher is assistant editor. Business manager is Dave Delong, and Mona Cupp is the assistant business manager. Arthur Whitfield is the photo-coordinator.

Other members on the staff are Greg Berrigan, Rojanne Bowers, Doug Brown, Dave Cook, Eric Hart, Barb Leist, Ann Titus, Peggy Uland, Lynne Weaver, and Martine Widmar.

The members of the staff will work this summer selling advertisement. They also plan to have money-making projects to raise money for additional pages. The staff feels that if everyone works out as planned, next year's annual will be very unique.

Welfare Spending $24.8 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's bill for family welfare spending rose 21.4 per cent last year to a record high of $24.8 billion, the government says.

The figure covers the cost of the federal-state Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) plan, the federal Medicaid program, and state and local general assistance, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare reported Wednesday.

HEW also said that in January, for the first time since May 1971, the size of state and local welfare rolls edged past one million. These programs, which are not federally funded, had 1,002,629 recipients in 44 states, HEW said.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Give Elderly Room With A View

DEAR ABBY: I just returned from having visited an elderly friend in a nursing home, and it was so depressing to see all those old people sitting in their rooms just staring at the bare walls I could have cried.

The windows were so high they couldn't look out unless they stood up, and most old people cannot stand for very long-if they can stand at all!

Abby, why can't they build the windows in those homes low enough for people to look out of while sitting in their chairs? To see the leaves turn color, the flowers blooming, the seasons changing, the people and automobiles pass, or even an occasional bird or squirrel would mean so much to them. It couldn't help but reduce their feeling of isolation and loneliness.

I hope you care enough to print this.

SOMEONE WHO CARES
DEAR SOMEONE: I care, too. Thank you for a wonderful letter.

DEAR ABBY: I see so many letters in your column from wives worrying about the "other woman." The smart wife doesn't have to worry. She looks at it this way:

The male animal is an automobile with the key always in the ignition. Just because another woman comes along and wants to steal him-even for a joyride-she is no more entitled to keep him than the thief who steals an automobile.

The smart wife doesn't panic. She faces the matter forthrightly and takes positive action. After all, the key is in the ignition for HER use, too.

She should run the motor until her

Commerce Department Finally Gets Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Commerce has an additional $1.7 million to carry on its regulatory duties and will retain responsibility for consumer protection under a bill signed, but vetoed in part, by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes line-item vetoed Wednesday a section of the appropriation bill that would have transferred the consumer protection division from the commerce department to the attorney general's office.

He approved language that releases funds immediately for regulation of banks, savings and loans institutions, securities and real estate.

Commerce Director J. Gordon Peltier had threatened to shut down the agency's regulatory duties for two weeks in mid-June if majority Democrats did not provide the money. His was the only state department cut from its previous expenditure level when the present, 1975-77 budget was approved.

The bill also grants $224,000 for the Fire Marshal's office and $308,000 for work on the new Fire Academy in suburban Reynoldsburg, near Columbus.

In agreeing to Peltier's demands for an increase, Democratic legislators attempted to deny him responsibility for the consumer protection division and move it to the office of Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, a Democrat.

"The functions of the division of consumer protection are an integral part of the responsibilities of the Director of Commerce in the

Violence Continues To Plague Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli troops man the castle-like walls of Jerusalem, firing tear gas at roving demonstrators. Black smoke hangs over Arab towns, where swarms of children light protest bonfires of oil-soaked tires.

Soldiers patrol in armored cars, firing warning shots skyward. Arab students pelt them with stones and chant: "In blood and fire we will redeem our land."

Big Oil Spill Off Cleveland Grows Worse

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Coast Guard says it is calling a 50-man reserve unit into action to check Lake Erie beaches east of Cleveland to watch for oil spreading from a ruptured barge on the rocks off Cleveland Harbor.

Meanwhile, the Coast Guard kept an eye on the weather, hoping to be able to resume cleanup operations that were suspended Thursday when the winds rose, sending waves crashing against the harbor breakwall.

About 30,000 gallons spilled from one ruptured tank before it was plugged by divers, the Coast Guard reported. The other nine tanks were reported to hold more than 600,000 gallons of oil.

The winds and waves that prevented the start of pumping operation Thursday also caused the oil to spread eastward.

Officials said the oil had turned into globs "as thick as marmalade" and had spread as far as the Euclid-Willowick city line.

Cmdr. Charles Corbett, chief of the Coast Guard's Environmental Protection Division in Cleveland, said there was no major threat to the environment and that the city's drinking water was safe from pollution.

City officials agreed that the oil was on the surface close to shore, while intake pipes for the water system reach more than three miles into the lake and are underwater.

A Coast Guard spokesman said a pollution recovery boat vacuumed about 1,000 gallons of oil off the lake's surface before worsening weather halted operations.

A boom made of inflatable rubber was installed east of the barge to confine the oil spill.

The Coast Guard said the barge owner, Gaelic Tugboat Co. of Grosse Ile, Mich., would be asked to pay for the cleanup. He said the Coast Guard had approved spending up to $50,000 from a pollution contingency fund for the cleanup operation and that more would be spent if necessary.

William Hoey, owner of Gaelic and the tug Kinsale, which was towing the barge when it broke loose, called the mishap "a real tragedy."

"It can crush us financially," he added. "I wish we could just put dirt on the barge and forget about it."

almost daily rituals in the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River.

Ten Palestinian Arabs have died in four months of riots, and Israel is worried about the backlash.

To reduce the bloodshed, the Israeli Ministry of Defense has issued tear gas to troops accustomed to only live ammunition and is considering the use of rubber bullets.

Israeli officials admit that the clashes have stirred growing sympathy for the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) among the West Bank's 670,000 Arabs. But authoritative sources concede there is no sign that the demonstrations have been fomented by the PLO.

The demonstrations began last autumn and intensified in February when a court ruling, later repealed, permitted Jews to worship at religious sites revered by both Moslems and Jews but in Moslem zones.

Arabs accuse the Jews of trying to take over their mosques on the holy Temple Mount in Jerusalem, and they are angry at Jewish settlements being built on the West Bank.

The Israeli government is sensitive about the demonstrations damaging its image abroad, with descriptions and photos of Israeli troops pounding and shooting at demonstrators.

Officials point out that throughout the disturbances, the bridges across the River Jordan have been left open for Arab travelers. Some 60,000 Arabs commute daily to work in Israel, and life in the fields and olive groves has been untouched by the violence in the towns.

The military command has made no apologies for the demonstrators killed by Israeli gunfire, except in the case of a 17-year-old girl shot in Nablus. She was the distant relative of a former prime minister of Jordan and a member of an influential family.

The army said she was "a completely innocent girl" and the shooting was an accident.

Investigating the shooting, the chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Mordechai Gur, questioned only the sergeant who fired the bullet, and did not interview Arab neighbors who claimed the girl was deliberately shot.

Israeli and Arab versions of almost every death have conflicted.

Military sources admitted that two of the Arabs were beaten before they died.

None of Israel's political parties so far has demanded an investigation into the shootings.

And the Israelis have made no move to soothe Arab fears of more Jewish homesteads being built in the West Bank, where 25 Israeli settlements now stand.

Students Seeking Accounting Jobs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A record number of students at Ohio State University are seeking careers in accounting because of high earning potential and a good job market, a faculty member says.

More than three times as many undergraduate students are enrolled as accounting majors at Ohio State than were registered five years ago, said Dr. Felix P. Kollaritsch, chairman of the accounting faculty.

There are 852 accounting majors, compared with 250 in the College of Administrative Science five years ago.

"It is not unusual for a person in public accounting to be making $50,000 to $60,000 after 10 years in the field," Kollaritsch said.

Skateboard Fever Worrying Doctors

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—Twelve-year-old Michael Lolla knows how dangerous skateboards can be. His mother broke her leg on one.

But Police Chief Charles McLaughlin hasn't convinced other kids here that skateboarding is dangerous on streets and sidewalks, especially since the town's 51-year-old mayor rides one.

Mayor John Carey, figuring that seeing is believing, stepped on his daughter's red skateboard Wednesday night and zipped several hundred feet down a mild slope, dodging cheering kids.

His form was beautiful — even when he landed on his behind, unscathed and his suit unsmudged.

"All sports are risky," he commented after brushing his hands off.

But some doctors are saying that the sport is too risky.

"There's really no way you can make a skateboard safe," said Dr. James Rector, chief resident in orthopedic surgery at Denver's Childrens Hospital.

"Several years ago skateboards were taken off the market because of the danger, but they supposedly were improved and came back on. But just as many injuries are being reported ...," said Dr. Harvey Kravitz, a Morton Grove, Ill., member of the American Academy of Pediatrics Committee on Accident Prevention.

In Seattle, Dr. Abe Bergman of Children's Orthopedic Hospital, said the accident ratio is much higher than the rate for bicycles or skiing. Doctors said leg, elbow, wrist and arm fractures are the most common injuries from spills or collisions with cars, dogs or pedestrians.

"Young children don't have the developed balance or muscular control to use them. It's not like skiing, for instance, where proper instruction is given and the sport is organized and watched over," added Kravitz.

Star Witness Being Called In Slaying

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — The prosecution planned to call its star witness today in the trial of William Nabozny for the murder of Detroit banker James J. Crawford.

The witness was Chester Wysocki, 36, of Dearborn, Mich., who allegedly was involved in the kidnaping of Crawford and has been granted immunity from a murder charge in order to testify.

Wysocki, however, still faces a federal kidnaping charge.

On Thursday, the prosecution attempted to link Nabozny with the car used in the abduction of Crawford.

Nabozny and two others are accused in the stabbing death Dec. 10 of Crawford, 25, who was kidnaped in Detroit Dec. 5 and brought to northeastern Licking County.

John Garsides, 39, and his common law wife, Sharon Scheurell, 24, both of Columbus, Ohio, also are charged with aggravated murder in the killing of Crawford. They are scheduled to be tried later.

Joseph Byle of Southgate, Mich., testified Thursday that Nabozny, of Dearborn, Mich., Garsides and a third man he didn't recognize arrived at his home early the morning of Dec. 5 in a car matching the description of the auto used in the abduction.

Byle said he went hunting shortly after the three arrived and said the men were gone when he returned late in the afternoon.

Jean Planko of Wayne, Mich., an aunt with whom Garsides and his wife lived, said she rented a car of the same make and color as the abduction vehicle and she frequently let Garsides borrow it.

Other witnesses included a bank official, two Roman Catholic priests and a Crawford family friend who had been contacted by the kidnapers to serve as go-betweens in ransom negotiations.

The kidnapers had demanded a $250,000 ransom but never made arrangements to claim it.

Indiana Man Wins Top Lottery Prize

CLEVELAND (AP) — With a guaranteed income of $1,000 a month for the rest of his life, 45-year-old Fred Fortner says he's looking forward to fulfilling his dream of buying "a little farm—something I can manage and have a couple of calves."

Fortner, of Richmond, Ind., won the top prize Thursday night in the Ohio lottery's Buckeye 1,000 competition.

But he said even with the prize that guarantees him or his estate at least $400,000, he plans to keep on working as a painter.

"However, you can bet I'm going to slow down a bit," he added.

Fortner, who is divorced, said he has five children and three grandchildren.

A lottery spokesman said the State Line Truck Stop at Eaton, Ohio, just across the line from Richmond, where

Claim Press Freedom Dying Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Dominican Republic newspaper publisher said Thursday night Latin American countries are in a headlong retreat from their avowed commitment to press freedom.

German E. Ornes of Santo Domingo said challenges are coming both from dictatorships and the so-called democracies.

Speaking at a banquet held during a three-day conference at Ohio State University on problems in the Western Hemisphere, Ornes said:

"It is true that all of the constitutions of the Americas still recognize the right of freedom of expression. Yet, in an increasing number of nations, this right is either ignored or severely curtailed by censorship, fear or frustration."

Another speaker, Clayton Kirkpatrick, editor and vice president of the Chicago Tribune, said the press in this country basically is healthy, although there are some major threats.

First among them are court gag orders, said Kirkpatrick, who heads the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

"We are moving to some extent toward secret trials," he said, "and I think this should be disturbing to all of us."

He cited another threat as a lack of credibility, saying that following Watergate there is a growing feeling that the press is arrogant, power-mad and abuses its power.

Blue Cross Hike Set For State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Higher monthly payments for Blue Cross and Blue Shield medical benefits are on the way for about 42,000 state employees.

The state Employee Compensation Board announced Thursday the health care provider would impose a maximum 16 per cent increase beginning July 1. That translates into a $5 million increase in the second year of a two-year agreement between the state and Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

Family plan recipients will pay an additional $3.11, pushing the current $20.10 monthly charge to $23.21. Individual payments will go from $8.65 monthly to $10.20, a $1.60 increase.

The compensation board voted 5-0 to continue the state's 70 per cent share of the plan. A spokesman said the provider cited higher costs and more claims than anticipated in implementing the increase.

The state's share of the burden in the family plan will increase from $46.90 a month to $54.17 and from $28.83 in the individual plan to $34.21. About 26,000 employees carry family policies, compared to 16,000 on individual plans.

The board has asked the Department of Insurance to audit the new rates to make certain they are "appropriate." That will not cause any delay, however. The new rates will be reflected in advance on June 18 payroll checks.

Kissinger Rejects Spheres Of Influence Policy In Europe

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger has told Washington's European allies that America supports the independence of Eastern Europe from Soviet domination and will never accept the sphere-of-influence concept for Europe.

U.S. officials said the secretary of state told North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) foreign ministers in a closed meeting Thursday that America is committed to encouraging the independence of Eastern Europe and has taken positive steps in this direction.

But they said Kissinger cautioned the NATO ministers that any alliance action should be within the limits of what is possible. This meant, they said, that there should be no effort to encourage revolt or a major shift away from Moscow by Eastern European nations.

About 20 youths demonstrated outside the heavily guarded meeting hall Thursday while 5,000 leftists marched in the streets. One group shouted "Out with the war criminal Kissinger" near the U.S. Embassy.

PAL Jetliner Taken Over By Hijackers

MANILA, The Philippines (AP) — Six Moslem tribesmen hijacked a Philippines Airlines — PAL — jet with 103 passengers and six crew members aboard today and forced the craft to land in Zamboanga, military authorities said. The plane was on a domestic flight.

The hijackers demanded $375,000 ransom and a DC8 plane to carry them out of the Philippines. The demands were made during negotiations with military commanders at the Zamboanga international airport, 530 miles south of Manila.

Three armored personnel carriers with machine guns took up positions about 70 feet from the plane. About 100 troops ringed the airport, witnesses said.

Military authorities identified the men as Maranaos, members of a Moslem tribe from the provinces of North and South Lanao in north-central Mindanao. That section was the scene of recent heavy fighting between dissidents who are seeking independence for the area and the armed forces.

Two of the three men who seized a PAL plane in another Mindanao city, Cagayan de Oro, on April 7 were also identified as Maranaos. They and their leader flew to Libya during an eight-day odyssey.

The BAC111 jet hijacked today was commandeered as it took off from Davao, 600 miles south of here, en route to Manila, sources said. Zamboanga is 250 miles west of Davao. Both cities are on the island of Mindanao. Manila is on Luzon.

The pilot, Capt. Jovencio Lagaso, informed the Davao airport 22 minutes after takeoff that his flight was "under hijack conditions" and that he was "proceeding to Zamboanga under instructions."

The sources said the hijackers were not identified. It was not immediately known how many were involved or how the plane was seized.

There were believed to be about a half-dozen foreigners on board.

Tax Break To Offset Care Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two million families are well on the way to receiving a $325-million tax break designed to offset some of the costs of children's day care.

The break, aimed especially at helping working mothers in low-income families, could be worth up to $800 a year to those who are eligible.

The Senate Finance Committee on Thursday accepted a House-passed provision that would liberalize the benefit and eliminate some of the red tape required to obtain it.

The new system would make the tax break available for the first time to families who do not itemize deductions, which includes most low-income families. Also, the benefits would be available for the first time to families where one or both parents work part-time.

The plan would eliminate the need to fill out a complicated separate tax form for childcare expenses.

In continuing work on a sweeping House-passed tax-revision bill, the panel also voted to simplify filing of returns by reducing the number of tables a taxpayer must check to find how much tax he owes.

Youth Charged With Junior High Break-In

A 14-year-old youth has been charged with the break-in and theft of supplies from the Circleville Junior High School after he surrendered to Circleville Police Sgt. Larry Pontious Thursday.

The youth apparently became frightened he would be discovered, according to Sgt. Pontious who has been investigating the theft since it occurred May 9.

He has been charged with breaking and entering and grand larceny.

Sgt. Pontious recovered more than the $289.59 in merchandise originally reported missing.

Police are still questioning several people after they recovered two stolen mini bikes Thursday.

The bikes, both stolen May 16, are owned by Ralph Mets, 430 Ray Ave., and Robert Scott, 675 E. Mound St. One was found along railroad tracks near Sumpter Ave. and the other at a home on Brown St.

Sgt. Pontious, Sgt. Jim Francis, and Ptl. Ron Smith, acting on a tip relayed through an informant, executed a search warrant at a Mingo St. home Thursday.

The bikes were not there, but the officers charged a 16-year-old resident with possession of marijuana. The officers found the mini bikes later in the afternoon.

Ohio . . .

momentum has swung in Ford's favor in view of his Michigan and Maryland primary victories.

"I will vote for him Monday," said Rockefeller. "We like his style, integrity and courage. I think he has restored faith and confidence in the nation."

Rockefeller predicted President Ford, who presently trails Reagan in delegates, would win on the first ballot in Kansas City. He cited Ohio, New Jersey and California as key primary states.

Rockefeller said Ohio "is very important" to Ford because of its large delegation and because "it is a state in the heartland of America."

In local campaigns Thursday, former Sen. Howard Metzenbaum and Rep. James Stanton, D-Ohio, continued appearances in their race for the Democratic nomination to challenge Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio.

Metzenbaum met with students at Miami University in Oxford Thursday afternoon. Later, he appeared in Dayton at a rally of Montgomery County Democrats.

Stanton met with reporters in Columbus in front of police headquarters to publicize legislation to transfer local funding under the Law Enforcement Assistance Act to the revenue sharing program.

He said he would introduce the bill next month.

Stanton said if local officials were given the anticrime funds to use as they saw fit, the money could be used more directly to "develop new strategies of crime control and maintain adequate levels of public safety."

Also competing for the Democratic spot are James Nolan, a Cleveland nursing home operator, and Richard B. Kay, a Cleveland lawyer.

The political spotlight was turned briefly on proposed constitutional amendments also to be considered during the June 8 primary.

The eight ballot issues have created little interest or opposition among voters, and the Ohio League of Women Voters lays part of the blame on Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and the state Ballot Board.

"The voters in Ohio are just not getting a fair shake from the state officials responsible for informing them on ballot issues," Joan Lawrence told a news conference Thursday. "We are appalled at the inadequacy of the job being done by the Ballot Board, the secretary of state and the General Assembly," she said.

Brown heads the five-member Ballot Board responsible for writing ballot wording and explanations of each issue.

The league said it discovered at least one error in the ballot language formulated by the board to be presented to voters in June.

Scioto Commandery Holds Conclave

A special conclave of Scioto Commandery, K. T. 35, was held last evening for the purpose of conferring the Order of the Temple on William I. Schooley.

The event was special also as the work was done by Past Commanders of the Commandery headed by Robert V. Miller.

Serving as the Eminent Commander were: Robert Elsea, Thoburn Blaney, and Miller. Other officers included: Past Commanders: Ray Johnson, William Ammer, James Krinn, Joseph Peters, Carl Agin, Guy O. Sark, James Shaw and Thurman Miller.

Serving as the organist was Paul Dunkle, current Eminent Commander of the local Masonic organization. Other officers assisting with the ritual were Sir Knights: Vaughn Reichelderfer, Jerry Trego, Jim Hendricks, and Arnold Toole.

The next event for the local Commandery will be the Annual Conclave on June 10, which will be followed by Installation of Officers.
